DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This group of four two story, two bay brick houses with shed roofs was built as a unit in the early 1880's. All of the houses have been covered with formstone.

The houses are two stories in height, 12'10" wide, and occupy lots about 69' deep. Each house is two rooms deep and originally had no rear additions. Today, 1007 Patapsco has a two story high, one bay deep frame addition and 1011 Patapsco has a second story, one bay deep frame bathroom addition which projects out over the rear yard. The houses are constructed in running bond but the facades have been covered with formstone. The shed roofs have no cornices. 1007 Patapsco has a single chimney located along the north side of the front and rear sections of the roof. There are no other extant roof chimneys.

Although the original treatment of the door and window lintels and sills has been hidden by the formstone covering, it appears that all of the lintels were flat, probably splayed brick. All of the window openings are filled with 1/1 double hung sash. 1009 Patapsco has a glass and panel door; 1011 Patapsco has a panel door with upper lights; and 1013 Patapsco has a Mission-style door. The door of 1007 Patapsco is hidden behind a modern storm door. All of the doors are set beneath single light transoms. The houses sit on high basements, the entrances being reached by four stone steps each. Each house has a rectangular basement opening located beneath the first floor window. The first floor window of 1011 Patapsco has been replaced by a double window consisting of two regular 1/1 modern sash installed side by side.
